FIGHTING FOR TIME

Change of Venue Asked and Evidence Heard.

A Woman Kills Her Husband at Caruthersville, Mo.—Man's Fatal Fall.

CAIRO SOLVES RACE QUESTION

FOR CHANGE OF VENUE.

Cynthiana, Ky., Sept. 15.—In the Jett trial the defense took up the motion for a change of venue and introduced three citizens who testified that on account of the inflamed state of the public from newspapers and dissatisfaction on account of the action of Juror Jasper King in the Jett and White case here, six weeks ago, it was impossible to get a fair trial for him in this county. The witnesses were M. S. McKee, a farmer, and brother-in-law of King Ford, a star witness for the defendant in this case and a relative of the Hargis's at Jackson; H. L. Peterson, attorney and H. C. Duffy, a farmer and horseman.

KILLED HER HUSBAND.

Caruthersville, Mo., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Bostic shot and killed her husband, Thomas A. Bostic at their residence in this city.

Immediately after the shooting Mrs. Bostic sent for a physician and the police. "This looks like a bad case," said Policeman Kelley.

"Yes," responded the woman. "But I had to do it. My husband came home mad tonight. I got up and opened the door for him. He undressed and lay down on the cot. I asked him if he would make up and kiss me good night. He said that he wanted none of my kisses and that he would end it all. He then started to get up. I thought he intended to kill me, as he often said he would. I was standing near the head of my bed, about six feet from where my husband lay. I reached under my pillow and got the pistol and shot him before he could rise. He was not drinking."

Mrs. Bostic and her two sons, Auria and Joseph Yarbrough, 14 and 16 years of age, were arrested and locked in the county jail.

CAK LOAD OF NEGROES.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 15.—A car load of negroes, who were arrested for vagrancy, were put aboard a car on an Illinois Central train, the doors locked and they were started for New Orleans. The negroes had the option of going there or serving a $50 fine in the Cairo jail. Their passage is paid by an employing agency that is securing men to take the places of the striking freight handlers at New Orleans. The men were promised $3 a day. This is the second car load that has been sent from Cairo in this way.

KILLED BY A FALL.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 15.—Eugene Parks, a carpenter employed on the new Holiday estate building, fell from the top of a brick wall to the ground below, a distance of nearly 50 feet, and sustained injuries from which he died. He was 50 years of age and leaves a family here.

CARRIED TO ASYLUM.

Mrs. Fannie Wallace, of Pilot Oak, Graves county, was adjudged insane and was carried to the Hopkinsville asylum yesterday, in charge of Maj. Sanders, of Mayfield. Her insanity was caused by ill health and she has been to the asylum twice before.

RATHER HARD SWAT

And the Rev. Sam Swatted Right Back.

Sensational Fight in Carversville, Ga., Between Evangelist and Postmaster.

THE RESULTS NOT SERIOUS

Carversville, Ga., Sept. 15.—Rev. Sam P. Jones, the famous Methodist evangelist, was badly bruised in a personal encounter yesterday with Postmaster Walter Akerman, whom Mr. Jones denounced for selling wine and threatened to have him reported to President Roosevelt. The difficulty arose over statements made by Mr. Jones at his tabernacle meeting when he used the expression "dirty dog" in his remarks said to refer to Mr. Akerman.

When they met Mr. Akerman mentioned the remarks, and hit Mr. Jones in the mouth. The evangelist replied with a lick in the eye. Though bleeding, Mr. Jones declared, after the affair that the only thing hurt about him was his fist.

During his remarks the night before Mr. Jones declared that the people of Carversville would "prefer a sober, decent negro to hand them out their mail to a dirty dog who was using his official position to sell wine and call it dope." Mr. Jones' remarks were sensational in the extreme, and the subsequent fight was not unexpected. This is not the first time that the minister has figured in such affairs. Several years ago a mayor of a Texas town attempted to cane him, and received a thorough licking.

BIG CONCERN

BIG LOAN COMPANY ORGANIZES HERE.

The organization of perhaps the biggest general loan company in the United States was completed in here this morning and the articles of incorporation will be filed within the next few days.

The organizers of the loan company are Messrs. L. E. McWhorter, of Louisville; John Bateman, of Chicago and James T. Green, of New York, all of whom were in the city today. The capital stock of the company has been fixed at $90,000 and a general loan business will be conducted, loans of all sizes being made on real estate principally.

The building lately improved at 226 Court street has been leased and will be the headquarters of the concern. Other branches will be located in other cities and a local branch will be maintained over the Tully Livery company and will be managed by Mr. C. C. Turner, who has had much experience in this line. A general manager, Mr. W. Reed, of New York, will arrive Monday to take charge and business will begin on that date. The articles of incorporation were finished today and will be filed tomorrow or Tuesday.

VACCINATING PUPILS.

DR. ROBERT RIVERS KEPT VERY BUSY TODAY.

City Physician Robert Rivers has been busy today vaccinating pupils entering the public schools, and up until press time had vaccinated over one hundred.

The school law requires each and every pupil to show a vaccination scar and if they have none require them to be immediately vaccinated and before they are admitted to the school. This was passed last year to prevent any danger from a small pox epidemic.

DEATH IN THE COUNTY.—Mrs. Mary Randle died this morning at Maxon's Mill, this county, of general debility. She was 67 years of age, and left two sons and one daughter. The burial will take place tomorrow morning at the Randle grave yard.

Mr. Harry Clements is reported still improving at Evansville, but is not yet able to be out.

FOR WILFUL MURDER

Surprise Over Grand Jury's Indictment of Henry Temple.

Had Been Out on Small Bond When Re-arrested Today—Motion for Bail Tomorrow.

REPORT OF THE GRAND JURY.

The grand jury made its second report yesterday afternoon but only five indictments were returned, notwithstanding the report to the effect that 69 true bills had been returned.

Those reported yesterday were Henry Temple, of Maxon, wilful murder, for killing Robert Smallman; John Babcock, for stealing S. J. Culp's mule; Roy Ferguson, for maliciously cutting Joe Starr; George Day, for killing Calvin Cary; Mary Thomas, for killing Lee Crawford; one action against Ed Settle for cutting Martha Springer was returned marked "dismissed."

The grand jury made another report today and returned the following indictments: Tandy Reeves for selling a stolen pistol to Ackerman, second hand dealer, for 35 cents; Bucksten Ray Taylor, for selling stolen fish to Lawrence James for $4.80; Charles Bryson, for striking E. H. Wilson with intent to kill; Mattie Springer, for cutting Della Humphrey; Henry Blue for stealing Scott Overton's horse.

Henry Temple, who was indicted by the grand jury for murder, as told above, was delivered into custody this morning and his attorneys immediately made a motion for bail. The motion will be heard tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Temple had been out on $2,000 bond since the preliminary hearing.

The facts relative to the killing are well known. Temple is owner of a mill in the county, and Smallman was engineer. They were the best of friends, but it is alleged while drinking a few weeks ago had a quarrel over closing down the mill at the regular time and Smallman was stabbed several times. He was brought to the city and died a few days later at the railroad hospital. His relatives employed attorneys to assist in the prosecution, and after the preliminary trial, when the accused was held on a small bail, the wife of the dead man sued him for $20,000 damages for the death of her husband, which suit is still pending.

It is said that Smallman was drunk at the time of the trouble and had returned to the mill a time or two to run it, although it was after time for closing it down, and came back after being taken home by friends. It was then, it is said, Mr. Temple attempted to induce him to go back home when Smallman drew a knife and Mr. Temple was forced to defend himself. As the grand jury hears only one side of a case, Mr. Temple's friends think that although he was indicted he will be promptly acquitted when his own side is heard.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

About 2000 Volumes Now Secured for it.

President Perryman Bought 1600 Picked Books Today—Building About Ready Now.

ABOUT TIME FOR NEW BOARD

The public library is now about ready to be turned over to the city. It is thought that in about a week the board of trustees will formally hand over the keys to the city, and the mayor will then appoint the new trustees, who will constitute a board of control.

On account of rather acute political antagonism which has in recent months sprung up between the mayor and members of the present library board, which is in reality only a building committee, there is more or less interest in whom he will appoint on the new board. It was supposed when the work began that he would reappoint the present board.

The new board will be of considerable importance as it will have complete control of the library and will elect the librarian, a position for which there are several applicants.

President G. W. Perryman, of the board, today secured 1600 volumes for the library. Yesterday afternoon he bid them in at a sale on South Third street but the entire stock of goods was later closed out as a whole.

This morning President Perryman purchased the books from the gentlemen who bought the stock yesterday, and they are picked volumes, and did not cost much over $100.

This gives some where near 2000 books for the library as a starter. Mr. H. C. West several months ago gave his private library to the library, and former Congressman C. K. Wheeler secured several hundred volumes of public documents at Washington. In addition many other donations have been made and there is quite an array of books already.

The racks are now in and the books will be placed on them forthwith. The trustees have been told of many citizens who have books to turn over to the library when it is complete and ready to open.

ALLEGED THEFT.

OTHO KINCAID WAS ARRESTED HERE TODAY.

Otho Kincaid, colored, was arrested last night by Sheriff Potter for petty larceny, and placed in jail to await a hearing.

He is charged with stealing money from Mr. Cook Husbands for whom he has been working for some time. He will probably be tried by Justice Barber.

Dr. Will Polk will leave next week for Nashville to complete his medical studies at Vanderbilt University.

MAY NOW HAVE ALL

Two Negroes Arrested in Memphis Today.

They Were Traced From Paducah Where They Passed Bills—A Third Missing.

HE MAY BE THE ONE HERE

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 15.—A detail of fifteen policemen this morning arrested Will Ray and Alfred Harrison, alias Irving Tolly, two of the three negroes who have been passing counterfeit money from Memphis to Chicago for a number of months, and after whom secret service authorities have been for the past six weeks.

They were traced from Paducah, Ky., to Chicago, and back to Memphis.

They had taken up their residence in a house on Gayoso street, where they were arrested today, without resistance.

The third negro is still missing. Their methods consisted of raising one dollar bills to fives and two dollar bills to tens.

They have passed large quantities of such money during their period of operations, one of the last offenses being at Millington, Tenn.

Alfred Harrison is also wanted by the Kentucky authorities for the killing of two officers between Owensboro and Paducah about a year ago while they were attempting to arrest him on a charge of murder.

FEDERAL COURT

Will Consider the Case of Jim Jackson, Colored.

Is Identified as One of the Men Who Passed Raised Bills Here.

Jim Jackson, colored, who was arrested here several days ago by Officers Gourieux and Clark for passing raised bills was this morning held over to the federal authorities and will be held until a warrant from Louisville is secured.

Jackson is charged with having passed at least some of the raised bills turned loose here August 8th, and especially one bill given to Mr. Thornton, at a saloon near Ninth and Court streets. When the negro who presented it in payment for two pounds of coffee saw that the fraud was detected, he ran and left bill and all.

Mr. Thornton identifies Jackson as the negro, but Jackson says he is positively not the one, although he admits he was here at the time.

An affidavit has been forwarded by Deputy United States Marshal Syd Hubbard to Louisville and a warrant is expected this evening. The local authorities think it is a case for the federal authorities to handle, and for that reason turned it over to them.

SEVERAL HURT.

HEAD END COLLISION NEAR RIPLEY, TENN.

A head end collision between freight train No. 193 and a work train at Ripley, Tenn., on the Tennessee division of the I. C. road, last night, resulted in the slight injury of three trainmen. Fireman West of Memphis, had his left leg broken; Fireman L. Gilbert, of this city, a knee injured and T. J. Foster, a negro laborer of the work train of Curve, left arm broken.

They were brought to the I. C. hospital here this morning and none of the three is seriously hurt. The trains were badly wrecked and the track was torn up.

Passenger train No. 104, due here from the south at 1:30 a. m. was delayed six hours.

Mr. E. B. Jones, late of the Stutz Candy Kitchen, left this morning for the Louisville division of the I. C. on his initial cramming trip for the Bauer Pottery Co.

VAST CROWDS COMING

Encouraging Reports Reach the Red Men From All Quarters

Two Big Parades to Be Given—Voting for the Princess Begins Tomorrow.

COMMITTEES ALL WELL UP

The Red Men are jubilant over the promised success of the carnival to be given here in October, and from reports from Marion and Danville, Ill., where the carnival company has been showing, the crowds are increasing daily with the popularity of the attractions. No pains will be spared to make every feature a success and the advertisers are working over time getting the county and nearby towns billed.

"There has been some talk of the county fair hurting our carnival or the carnival hurting the county fair," Mr. Rhodes explained, "but we expect to help each other. The people brought here by the county fair will attend the carnival at night."

The committee appointed to arrange for the vote for princess, Messrs. Wallerstein, Wiltach, Petit and Winston, will tomorrow morning put out in a number of the prominent business establishments in the city the boxes for depositing ballots. The votes will cost five cents each and will be counted at intervals in order to keep up interest. The princess, in addition to the honor conferred, will be provided with one of the handsomest costumes ever seen in the city, and will have the position of honor in the big parade.

The committee on parades has not yet announced its complete details. It is certain, however, that there will be two big parades and one burlesque parade. The day on which the latter takes place will be known as "Carnival day" and will be something similar to Mardi Gras, those who desire going in fantastic garbs of all kinds. It will be the day of fun.

The committees are well up in their work, and the reports from the country surrounding, and even from many cities and towns up the road show that the festival has been extensively advertised and that thousands are coming to it.

The board of directors meet this evening to take up a number of important matters. The gentlemen who have in charge the decorations report that their success exceeds their fondest hopes and they fully expect to do an immense business and have every residence and building in the city decorated during the week.

Dr. Bass will be in charge of the hospital tent on the grounds, and there will be plenty of medical and surgical attention for anyone who chances to be hurt or ill.

BANKRUPTCY CASE.

A GRAVES COUNTY FARMER FILES A PETITION HERE.

James Lewis Cosby, of Folsomdale, Graves county, filed a petition in bankruptcy today in the office of United States Clerk J. R. Puryear. His liabilities are $600. He has no assets.

NEWS NOTES.

It is stated that Postmaster General Payne followed precedent and civil service rules in the Delaware patronage case, and that no friction exists between the official and the president.

The government has representatives at the irrigation congress in Ogden who are specifically charged to see that the interests of the public are protected and that no land company schemes are indorsed.

Frankfort, Sept. 15.—The cases of Taylor, Finley, John L. Powers and others, charged with complicity in the Goebel murder conspiracy case, were called in circuit court today and continued. There will be no further investigation at present in the Goebel case, and no indictments by the grand jury for the term now on.

Ask Your Dealer About Alcohol in Liquid Kidney Remedies.

CHAS. F. ORR CURED OF LAME BACK OF 12 YEARS' STANDING.

Two months ago Chas. F. Orr, 239 Boston Street, Lynn, Mass., wrote: "I have been subject to lameness in my back for 10 or 12 years. I tried Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets and was relieved immediately. By the time I had taken the whole of the first bottle the ache was gone entirely. I have not been troubled since."

"Hospitals use Kidney-Wort Tablets because they contain no alcohol—a serious objection in the mind of every physician to the use of liquid kidney remedies. It is the one remedy that thoroughly cures jaundice, gall-stones, malaria, chills and fevers, debility, constipation, gravel, diabetes, rheumatism pains due to excessive uric acid and the headaches and dyspepsia that are brought on by clogged kidneys. Has your urine, your back, your general health led you to wonder if your kidneys are sound? Write Dr. Pettingill, Burlington, Vermont. Give him your symptoms, he will advise you free."

And the Northern Pacific has a new and very Low Rate for Colonists and Homeseekers in effect from September 15 to November 30, 1903.

This gives farmers a good chance to go homeseeking, after crops are harvested, or any others who wish to move into the growing, teeming, improving Northwest, to visit it at trifling expense.

The finest valleys in the Northwest, good for grain, hay, fruits, root crops, for mixed, stock or dairy farming, for irrigation or not, as one wishes, are found along the Northern Pacific or its branch or connecting lines. The growing, thriving towns are found there, too. It is a great country.

THE SALVATION ARMY

Will Invade the Mountain Districts at Once.

Hope to Reform the Bloodthirsty Mountaineers in the Course of Time.

THE CAMPAIGN PLANNED.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 15—Col. Richard E. Holz, who will command the Salvation Army Corps during its trip into the mountain districts of Kentucky and Tennessee, where it will work to bring about a more Christian condition of affairs than now exists, was given a farewell by the local army branch. Col. Holz gave the following details of the method of work:

"Our object is to carry Christianity to the mountaineers of the Southern states that will be visited. These people are practically without Christianity. We feel that we should get in touch with these people, that we should have a band of our Salvationists personally visit them and try our methods on them. You see we hardly know how to get at them, and that is the purpose of our coming trip. We will feel our way, and study the situation thoroughly. We are hopeful that the methods of the Salvation Army will prove just the thing to awaken this peculiar people and to bring them out of their present condition. I can only say that we are hopeful; our methods may not work at all. The coming trip will tell the tale."

The full itinerary of the trip is as follows:

Cincinnati, September 14; Jackson, Breathitt county, Ky., September 15-16; Salyersville, Magoffin county, September 17; Prestonburg, Floyd county, September 18; Pikeville, Pike county, September 19-20; Hindman, Knott county, September 21; Hazard, Perry county, September 22; Whitesburg, Letcher county, September 23; Wise Courthouse, Va., September 24; Norton, Va., September 25; Bristol, Tenn., September 26-27; Knoxville, Tenn., September 28-29.

STILL BUSY

The Total Enrollment of the School Not Known.

About 400 Entry Cards Have Been Issued by Superintendent Hatfield.

Superintendent Hatfield has been unable to get the correct enrollment of the schools as yet but will have all teachers meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Longfellow building for the purpose of investigating the enrollment and remedying any irregularity that might be found.

The enrollment will reach about 300 over last year, it is thought, and several rooms in many of the schools are crowded to the overflowing. At the Longfellow Prof. Sugg has 60 pupils in his room and the total enrollment as reported from the Franklin building is 325.

Superintendent Hatfield has issued up until this morning over 400 entry cards and is still busy with examinations. He had a boy stationed at the door of his office with tickets each bearing a consecutive number and each person coming on business is given a ticket and waited on in regular turn.

Columbia River and Mt. Hood is the title of a chapter in the Northern Pacific's "WONDERLAND 1903." Few of our people have any idea of what a noble stream the Oregon of Brant's Thanatopsis, is, or know of the beauties of Mt. Hood and of the pleasures of a sojourn on its flanks, covered with the firs and spruces of the North Pacific slope.

There is no such stream in the United States as the Columbia. The Hudson, Ohio, Mississippi, Missouri, are not in the same category with this grandest of rivers. With its swirling currents, rapids, cataracts, lava bluffs, fairy water falls, cascades, tremendous canyon walls, gigantic cliffs, salmon fisheries, palisades, pinnacles, and tidal bays, its great width and its sea like depth, it eclipses any water course in North American territory.

Mt. Hood, always white with snow, overlooks the river gorge and adds to its attractiveness.

ALICE of OLD VINCENNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1900, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

"In his left hand he held his bow, while in his right he half lifted a murderous looking tomahawk."

"What new flag mean?" he demanded, waving the bow's end toward the fort and bending his head down close to hers. "Who yonder?"

"The great American father has taken us under his protection," she explained. "We are big knives now." It almost choked her to speak.

"Ugh, heap big fools!" he said with a dark scowl. "Little friend much big fool."

He straightened up his tall form and stood leering at her for some seconds, then added:

"Little friend get killed, scalped, maybe."

The indescribable nobility of animal largeness, symmetry and strength showed in his form and attitude, but the expression of his countenance was absolutely repulsive—cold, hard, beastly.

He did not speak again, but turned quickly and, stooping low, disappeared like a great brownish red serpent in the high grass, which scarcely stirred as he moved through it.

Somehow that day made itself strangely memorable to Alice. She had been accustomed to stirring scenes and sudden changes of conditions, but this was the first time that she had ever joined actively in a public movement of importance. Then, too, Long Hair's picturesque and rudely dramatic appearance affected her imagination with an indescribable force. Moreover, the pathetic situation in the love affair between Rene and Adrienne had taken hold of her conscience with a disturbing grip. But the shadowy sense of impending events, of which she could form no idea, was behind it all. She had not heard of Brandywine or Concord, but something like a waft of their significance had blown through her mind. A great change was coming into her idyllic life. She was indistinctly aware of it, as we sometimes are of an approaching storm while yet the sky is sweetly blue and serene. When she reached home the house was full of people to whom M. Roussillon, in the gayest of moods, was dispensing wine and brandy.

"Vive Zhorzh Vasinton!" shouted Uncle Jazon as soon as he saw her. And then they all talked at once, saying flattering things about her. Mme. Roussillon tried to scold as usual, but the lively chattering of the guests drowned her voice.

"I suppose the American commander will send a garrison here," some one said to Father Gibault, "and repair the fort."

"Probably," replied the priest, "in a very few weeks. Meantime we will garrison it ourselves."

"And we will have M. Roussillon for commander," spoke up Rene de Ronville, who was standing by.

"A good suggestion," assented Father Gibault. "Let us organize at once."

Immediately the word was passed that there would be a meeting at the fort that evening for the purpose of choosing a garrison and a commander. Everybody went promptly at the hour set. M. Roussillon was elected captain by acclamation, with Rene de Ronville as his lieutenant. It was observed that Uncle Jazon had resumed his dignity and that he looked into his cap several times without speaking.

Meantime certain citizens who had been in close relations with Governor Abbott during his stay quietly slipped out of town, manned a batteau and went up the river, probably to Oulatenon first and then to Detroit. Doubtless they suspected that things might soon grow too warm for their comfort.

It was thus that Vincennes and Fort Sackville first acknowledged the American government and hoisted the flag which, as long as it floated over the blockhouse, was lightly and lovingly called by every one la banniere d'Alice Roussillon.

Father Gibault returned to Fort Kaskaskia and a little later Captain Leonard Helm, a jovial man, but past the prime of life, arrived at Vincennes with a commission from Colonel Clark authorizing him to supersede M. Roussillon as commander and to act as Indian agent for the American government in the department of the Wabash. He was welcomed by the villagers and at once made himself very pleasing to them by adapting himself to their social activities.

M. Roussillon was absent when Captain Helm and his party came. Rene de Ronville, nominally in command of the fort, but actually enjoying some excellent grouse shooting with a bell mouthed old fowling piece on a distant prairie, could not be present to deliver up the post, and as there was no garrison just then visible Helm took possession without any formalities.

"I think, lieutenant, that you'd better look around through the village and see if you can scare up this Captain What's-his-name," said the new commander to a stalwart young officer who had come with him. "I can't think of these French names without getting my brain in a twist. Do you happen to recollect the captain's name, lieutenant?"

"Yes, sir—Gaspard Roussillon it reads in Colonel Clark's order, but I am told that he's away on a trading tour," said the young man.

"You may be told anything by these hair tongued parlyvoos," Helm remarked. "It won't hurt, anyway, to find out where he lives and make a formal call, just for appearance sake, and to inquire about his health. I wish you would try it, sir, and let me know the result."

The lieutenant felt that this was a peremptory order and turned about to obey promptly.

"And I say, Beverley, come back sober if you possibly can," Helm added in his most genial tone, thinking it a great piece of humor to suggest sobriety to a man whose marked difference from the men of that time was his total abstinence from intoxicating drinks.

Lieutenant Fitzhugh Beverley was a Virginian of Virginians. His family had long been prominent in colonial affairs and boasted a record of great achievements both in peace and in war. He was the only son of his parents and heir to a fine estate consisting of lands and slaves; but, like many another of the restless young cavaliers of the Old Dominion, he had come in search of adventure over into Kentucky, along the path blazed by Daniel Boone, and when Clark organized his little army the young man's patriotic and chivalric nature leaped at the opportunity to serve his country under so gallant a commander.

Intent upon his formal mission, Lieutenant Beverley stalked boldly into the enclosure at Roussillon place and was met on the gallery by Mme. Roussillon in one of her worst moods. She glared at him with her hands on her hips, her mouth set irritably aslant upward, her eyebrows gathered into a dark knot over her nose. It would be hard to imagine a more forbidding countenance, and for supplementary effect on popped hunchback Jean to stand behind her, with his big head lying back in the hollow of his shoulders and his long chin elevated, while he gawped intently up to Beverley's face.

"Bon jour, madame," said the lieutenant, lifting his hat and speaking with a pleasant accent. "Would it be agreeable to Captain Roussillon for me to see him a moment?"

Despite Beverley's cleverness in using the French language he had a decided brusqueness of manner and a curt turn of voice not in the least Gallic. True, the soft Virginian intonation marked every word, and his obeisance was as low as if Mme. Roussillon had been a queen, but the light French grace was wholly lacking.

"What do you want of my husband?" Mme. Roussillon demanded.

"Nothing unpleasant, I assure you, madame," said Beverley.

"Well, he's not at home, m'sieu; he's up the river for a few days."

She relaxed her stare, untied her eyebrows and even let fall her hands from her shelflike hips.

"Thank you, madame," said Beverley, bowing again. "I am sorry not to have seen him."

As he was turning to go a shimmer of brown hair streaked with gold struck upon his vision from just within the door. He paused, as if in response to a military command, while a pair of gray eyes met his with a flash. The cabin room was ill lighted, but the crepuscular dimness did not seem to hinder his sight. Beyond the girl's figure a pair of slender swords hung crossed aslant on the wall opposite the low door.

The rough frame of the doorway gave just the rustic setting suited to Alice's costume, the most striking part of which was a grayish short gown ending just above her fringed buckskin moccasins. Around her head she had bound a blue kerchief, a wide corner of which lay over her crown like a loose cap. Her bright hair hung free upon her shoulders in tumbled half curls.

A BLOW TO DEMOCRACY.

If the Democratic party in Kentucky had either pride or principle, a spectacle to cause it to hide its head in shame would have been that Saturday when an ex-Confederate soldier, a lifelong Democrat who had led the party to victory, and a former governor of a proud old commonwealth, appeared before an immense crowd of Republicans in the state which he had once as

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.

We Be Voted On at the November Election.

CHAPTER 50.

An act to provide for an amendment Section 181 of the Constitution of Kentucky.

"The General Assembly may, by general laws only, authorize CITIES OR TOWNS OF ANY CLASS to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, licenses or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon;

"Provided, cities of the first class shall not be authorized to omit the imposition of an ad valorem tax on such property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, or light or electric power com-

a Democrat been proud to represent as chief executive, and explaining the depths of depravity and demoralization to which his party had sunk, renounced it forever. This man was General S. B. Buckner, a man whose life has helped make history.

Could anything be more humiliating than his burning words Saturday, when he said:

"I was educated at an institution whose motto is: 'Duty, honor, country.' This has taught me that we should not live altogether for ourselves, but that we owe something to others, that in our dealings with the world we should always be frank and truthful; and that it is incumbent on every citizen to devote his best energies to the welfare and happiness of his country. Believing in the truth of this teaching, as a citizen, I have allied myself with that political party, whose principles, in my judgment, would best promote the common welfare."

How many others have found that the Democratic party now boasts of no such words in its vocabulary as "duty, honor and country?" How many other proud, hoary heads, see the tottering structure of their once proud party as it threatens to crumble and pass into well earned oblivion, and are seeking the party "whose principles promote the common welfare"—the Republican?

General Buckner says of the party that he once called his own: "Modern Democrats teach that chicanery, theft and all forms of fraud should be practiced to overthrow the will of the majority and to install in offices of trust defeated candidates who have no right to hold them; it teaches instead of that persons accused should be tried by fair juries, that 'juries should be packed and judges chosen to prosecute the innocent and to turn criminals loose upon the community.'"

General Buckner says further that he is a "former Democrat, because modern Democrats have appropriated a hundred thousand dollars of the people's substance as blood money for the encouragement of perjury, and for the better compassing the judicial murder of political adversaries; and their only logic in defense of their devious ways is a coarse and indecent vituperation of those who would not, like themselves, discard the principles of their party, and, in the hope of personal advancement, betray the best interests of their country."

"I am one of those 'former Democrats,' he declared, 'who believes in the right of the people to govern themselves; who, in the words of a distinguished orator, 'loves his party too well to be willing that it should betray his country; and whose confession of political faith may be found in the Democratic platform of principles promulgated at Indianapolis in 1896. It is because I am such a Democrat that I am here today at the opening of a political contest which is of vital interest to every citizen of the commonwealth."

"No question of national politics is involved in this contest. It concerns only our own state government. The issue is a simple one and well defined. Shall we submit to the misrule of a self-constituted and self-perpetrating oligarchy of officeholders, or shall the people rise in their majesty and assert their rights to self-government and free institutions? This question you must decide next November."

He thus contrasts the two tickets: Republican: "A platform of principles on which every patriot can stand. It demands fair elections, submission to the will of the people, the enforcement of laws and suppression of crime, and the redemption of the state from the misrule which has, in recent years, degraded the commonwealth in the estimation of the whole country. With this platform they have offered for your support candidates whose characters invite the closest scrutiny."

Democrat: "A ticket fabricated by a political machine, which flaunts the stolen banner of Democracy and which would not permit the party which they profess to represent a free expression of their choice of candidates. We have the best proof of this fact from avowed supporters of the ticket. During the progress of the preliminary campaign, four of the five candidates for the gubernatorial nomination successively withdrew from the contest before the pretended primary, because of the unfair manner in which the pretended election was to be conducted—some of them denouncing the unfairness and corruption of this obnoxious ring in unmeasured terms."

In regard to the steal of the state by Democrats and the persecution of Republicans in Democratic partisan courts, General Buckner asks if some of these same men, who are now seeking endorsement at the polls are going to get it, and replies, "I don't know. But if there be any sentiment of honor left with the people, if there be any love of a Republican form of government, if a spirit of patriotism still exists with Kentuckians, you will answer this request by administering such a rebuke as will convince them that you do not propose to bow your necks to the ignominious yoke of an unscrupulous political machine, but will retain for yourselves the proud heritage of free government won by your ancestors and will transmit it to your remotest posterity. This is not a contest of parties; but a contest of the people, irrespective of party affiliations, for the recovery and the maintenance of the right of self government."

And General Buckner is only one of many of Democracy's leaders who have renounced a party too corrupt and unscrupulous to longer serve. It is indeed a sorry spectacle to witness how the mighty has fallen.

SCAPEGOT JETT.

Somewhat when you get to thinking about it, they are giving Curtis Jett the hot end of it. Jett, with all his faults, seems to have been only the tool of others too cowardly themselves to do the bloody work that he was delegated to do. His immunity from punishment and the profusion of pardons issued to criminals, seemed to act as an encouragement to commit other and bolder crimes, and those responsible for that immunity and encouragement are the ones most to blame. The reason one involuntarily feels a sympathy for this assassin, however, is that he is being made a scapegoat. For years Breathitt county had been one of feuds where they shot, cut and killed and never a hand was turned by Frankfort officials to prevent. Finally the authorities, who ought to have been at it years ago, but were not, piously decide to break it up, and start in on Jett. He is to be made an example of and probably hanged. The administration is making a play to the gallery, and Jett must be the villain who is slain at the climax to show the triumph of right over wrong.

Jett will doubtless deserve all he gets, but the effort to purge Breathitt county and punish some of her murderers or possibly all of them, by the vicarious sacrifice of Jett, comes a little late to impress one with its sincerity, although it may be in good time for campaign purposes. Poor Jett! He, of Breathitt county's many murderers must allow himself to be hanged in order to prove that the administration some times enforces the law.

A serious question is, would there have been any soldiers sent to Breathitt after the Marcum assassination or any bluff made to suppress crime had it not been so near a political campaign?

It is given out by city officials that the street improvements recently contracted for are certainly to be made this fall. Perhaps they are, but it looks to a man up a tree as if it is about time to get at it. And further, that it is about time to have the streets and pavements on Broadway repaired. It has been over a year since the small-ice administration began considering the repairs to the Broadway graft, and the public is no better off than it was then. The feeble excuse that everybody is too busy to do the work will not suffice. The city advertised for bids and found a man who wanted to do the work, and he is probably still willing. Mayor Yeiser and the boards ought to go ahead and have the much needed repairs done on Broadway and not fool away any more time waiting for some one else to have them done. The people have waited long enough already.

Senator Carmack, according to the Memphis dispatches, is to introduce in the senate at the next session a bill for the repeal of the fifteenth amendment to the Federal constitution, which says there shall be no discrimination against a citizen of the United States because of race, color or previous condition of servitude. He wants to disfranchise those negroes who have not already been deprived of their vote in the south. Those who have watched the course of the wild and ferocious Carmack do not doubt that he contemplates introducing something of the kind, possibly to make himself solid with the southern states, or not unlikely because it would meet with the approval of most of the southern people, but what does a man of average intelligence imagine would happen to such a bill in congress? It would probably never get out of the pigeon-hole of some dusty desk.

Judge Moss, of Memphis, is talking of resigning and it would seemingly be a good thing if he would. He is the gentleman who censures the grand jury if it does not return indictments he happens to want returned or for some reason thinks ought to be returned, and dismisses petit jurors for not returning verdicts that he wants returned. If the framers of the law intended for one man to act as a whole court, jurors and all, it would have said so, and perhaps Judge Moss would fill the bill pretty well. But the law doesn't justify such conduct on the part of a judge, and a judge who can't overcome a disposition to be the whole show can't resign any too quick.

St. Louis had better be doing something to show the people that she will be able to accommodate the crowds next year when the World's Fair opens. Traveling men in Paducah daily from the Future Great say that you can scarcely get hotel accommodations there now, and there is no telling how it will be when the fair crowds begin coming.

The people of Kentucky have been standing long enough gazing into the air while their pockets are picked by Democratic officeholders. They should pay some attention to what is going on around them instead of something like the Goebel murder, used only by the tricksters to detract their attention while the state is looted.

Greatest Hopes Realized in the Curative Properties of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup.

This was the experience of Miss Olga Bryan, the charming secretary of the Young Woman's Club of Frayser, Tenn., when run down in health and suffering from a serious complication of stomach troubles which a skilled physician was unable to relieve. She tells her story in the following letter to the Thacher Medicine Co.:

THACHER MEDICINE COMPANY, Chattanooga, Tenn.

GENTLEMEN—Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup is a most valuable aid to digestion in cases of Dyspepsia, Stomach difficulties or a general run down condition caused from extreme fatigue. I suffered with a complication of stomach troubles five months ago, was unable to eat and sleep, and was ordered by the doctor to take at least a year's rest and to travel if possible. I told him that this was simply impossible as I had neither the money nor the time to spare and so he prescribed for me. I did not get any relief, however, and speaking to a friend he recommended me to try Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup, praising it so highly that I felt much encouraged. I am glad to say that my greatest hopes were realized and in two months I was able to resume my duties with renewed vigor and strength. I have no trouble whatever now and certainly give highest endorsement to your valuable medicine. Yours very respectfully, Miss Olga Bryan.

—Won't you, like Miss Bryan, take the advice of one who knows and get a bottle of

MET ON THE CURVE

Light Engine and Work Train Collide.

Going Slowly and Little Damage Was Done by the Impact.

There was a head-end collision on the I. C. this morning about 7:45 o'clock at the dispatchers office on the curve leading from the Memphis division to the passenger depot.

A light engine No. 1196, in charge of Hostler Fred West, was going to the depot to wait for train No. 122 which it would have taken out and on coming around the curve ran into an extra work train engine No. 607 in charge of Conductor Tikford, Engineer F. F. Eaker and Foreman Brown. The work train was going south and had just left the depot with orders. A light engine No. 17 was standing on the second track and hid the light engine from the work train and the work train from the light engine. The engines were not going very fast but struck with sufficient force to break the pilot off and derail the front wheels of the work train engine. No one was injured, but new engines had to be secured for both trains.

Interference in the Balkan troubles by the powers is prevented, according to an editor of a Paris paper, by the fear that if the Turk should be forced west of the Bosphorous territory vacated and coveted by rulers would provide causes for further dissensions.

FORCED TO RESIGN.

LOST GOOD POSITION THROUGH BAD FOOD.

"I felt immediately better after my first meal on Grape Nuts, which I began to use after my health had broken down and I was a nervous wreck.

"My stomach was in such a condition that I could eat nothing and trying to eat was a burden to me.

"My pulse ran up to 115 and my weight fell 25 pounds. I got so I couldn't work and was forced to resign a good position. I took milk panaches between meals and quit meat altogether but nothing improved my appetite and the condition of my stomach. I finally went on one meal a day and had to force myself to eat that and was rapidly starving until one day a friend suggested Grape Nuts.

"Although my palate and stomach had rebelled against all other foods Grape Nuts agreed immediately and I really enjoyed this food while the changes in my condition have been wonderful. My weight increased from the start and I have now regained 12 pounds while my pulse is normal and I am a new person all over. Life seems worth living and I enjoy all my meals.

"To make sure that this change was due to Grape Nuts I made the experiment of leaving off the food for five days but I began to go backwards so rapidly that I concluded I had satisfied my curiosity in this respect and I went back to Grape Nuts again in a hurry and began to pick up again. Grape Nuts certainly touched the spot and did the work." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Theatrical Notes.

A fairly large crowd witnessed the Gardner-Root sparring exhibition and moving pictures of the great sparring match between the two well known pugilists, at The Kentucky theater last night. Those who saw it were well pleased, especially with the sparring, which is said to have been the best thing in its line ever seen here.

The program which Mr. Herrmann presents in this city the present season is replete with new, novel and startling magic phenomena, that will establish and delight all beholders. It includes "The Bride Elect" the furor of London and Paris; "The Queen of Flame," a cremation effect in which the subject vanishes in flame and smoke in view of the audience—and some wonderful experiments in the art of levitation. Herrmann has with him this season the Laskys, the celebrated musical duetists.

HARRIS'S SHOW HERE.

The World Famous Nickel Plate Shows arrived early this morning and have pitched their tents at McGraw's park for today. They gave a splendid street parade this morning, which was seen by large crowds all along the line of march. Despite being here after a holiday, the afternoon performance was well attended, and not one dissenting voice could be heard from among the large number who attended. The educated ponies, horses, camels and elephants give a remarkable performance. The show is given in one ring, where all can see all that takes place and is much more appreciated than one of the three ring kind. The acrobats, gymnasts, aerialists and riders were good. They give another performance tonight and those wanting to see a first class show should not miss this one.—The New Era, Lancaster, Pa., May 31.

This show will be in Paducah Friday and Saturday.

WRITES AN OPEN LETTER.

Georgetown, Ky., Sept. 15.—Caleb Powers has issued a prospectus for a book of his speech in his own defense, lately delivered at Georgetown. He desires his friends to buy and read it so as to enable him to pay the stenographer's charges for making a transcript of the record to be sent to the court of appeals of the last trial, which he says costs $839.52, and must be ready by October 8. The book will be completed for circulation September 20. The following letter is explanatory:

PROSPERITY OF POWERS' BOOK.

"To the Public: On account of the demand for my argument before the jury in my own behalf, I have decided to put it in book form and give all an opportunity to read it, who may desire so to do. I do this for two reasons:

"First, I have many warm friends, both in and out of this state, who have contributed generously and liberally of their means toward my defense, and there are also many who have not been able or called upon to contribute. I want to give these friends an opportunity to read what I had to say in my own defense, if they desire it. Again, there are many who, from reading unfair reports of my trials, have formed opinions prejudicial to my interests and to me. I want to give those who have opinions thus formed an opportunity to know more of the merits of my defense and more of me, if they so desire. I think if we understood each other better that we would be better friends. Such is often the case. I tried to state the facts in my case with fairness, but those reading the book can be the judge of that.

BILL WILL BE $839.52.

"In the second place, the stenographer's price for preparing and filing the bill of exceptions, and transcript in my case is $839.52. I cannot prosecute my appeal without it. And the bill of exceptions will have to be filed on the 8th of October, or I will lose my right of appeal. I cannot hope to pay all this with the small profit on the sale of the books in the limited time allowed me, but I hope to pay a part of it.

IN EVENT OF AFFIRMATION.

"Again, if the court of appeals in this state affirms the judgment in my case, I want, if it can be done, to carry my case to the supreme court of the United States in the hope of relief. If it is taken there, all the testimony and the whole of the records will have to be printed, and it will cost me between $3,000 and $4,000 to do that and have the case presented there. If the court of appeals of Kentucky reverses the judgment in my case, I will need the money in defraying the expenses of my fourth trial here. I want my friends to know the situation of affairs.

BOOK READY SEPTEMBER 20.

"The book is now in the hands of the publishers and will be ready for distribution about the 20th of this month. It will contain between 100 and 200 pages and will cost 25 cents per volume. I have tried to put the price within the reach of all.

"I want the book put on sale in every city, town and hamlet of this state, and a reasonable commission will be allowed for handling same. But this will not preclude any person from ordering one or more books direct by enclosing price of same with order. If checks or postoffice money orders are used, which is preferred, please make them payable to me, but address all communications and make all orders to K. S. Bradley, Georgetown, Ky., and the money, postoffice money orders or checks will be promptly filled. Those desiring to sell the books on commission will please write K. S. Bradley and satisfactory arrangements can be made.

ASKS ALL NEWSPAPERS

TO PRINT.

"I trust that all newspapers of the state, both city and county, those friends to me and those not friends, will publish this letter and if arrangements are made to put books on sale I hope that every paper in the county,

"Caleb Powers."

CITY ASSESSMENT.

TODAY THE ANNUAL LISTING OF PROPERTY REGINS IN THE ASSESSOR'S OFFICE.

The annual assessment of property for city taxes began today, and Assessor Dick expects that he will have until December 1st listing all the property. Under the present charter the assessor simply has to remain in his office, like the tax collector, and list the property as it is given in by the owner. The law requires everybody to furnish the assessor with his or her property list, which saves a great deal of time and trouble. If the value placed on property is not regarded as enough or is too much, the supervisors later on change it.

EDWARD W. BOK ON SUCCESS.

Like many aspiring youths, Edward W. Bok turned to one who had been brilliantly successful for the password which would open to him the golden gates. He asked Chauncey Depew what was the secret of success. "My boy," replied the genial diplomat, "there is no secret to it. It is just dig, dig, dig. That the hint was taken, can be judged from the position Mr. Bok now holds. Being called upon to relate how he had succeeded so strikingly Mr. Bok told the story. In the course of his lecture on "The Keys to Success," which is given in extension "Modern Eloquence," from which we quote, he shows marked ability for crystallizing fact into program, as can be seen from the following examples: Every young man who is striving to succeed must put success in its right place, simple place.

To carry to a successful termination what one starts to do is what success really is and means.

The correct definition of success is accomplishment. Hard work must become a habit before any degree of success whatever is attained. The success most highly regarded in the business world is that which is won on conservative lines.

Thoroughness is the surest key to success in business.

When a young man overlooks the small things, or thinks they are not important enough to do them well and thoroughly, he leaves out of his calculations one of the most important elements of success.

No town is too small for success. A man's success never depends on the place in which he lives; it depends on the man.

Thoroughness is the earning power of success.

You cannot hurry success. It is like respect; you must earn it.

A Memphis dispatch to the Record-Herald says: The ball game today between Memphis and Birmingham disclosed the fact that the latter club has a preacher on its list, who declined to play Sunday ball. Ed Crabbill, of Pennsylvania, whose father is also a minister, studiously avoided the park. Crabbill is a pitcher of considerable skill, and by following the game during the summer saves up enough money to keep his small Baptist church going through the winter.

HAS RESIGNED

MR. BURLINGAME TO RETURN TO ROCKFORD, ILL.

Mr. Clarence H. C. Burlingame, the recently appointed physical instructor of the local Y. M. C. A., has resigned his position and will return tomorrow to his home in Rockford, Ill. Mr. Burlingame's reason for resigning was on account of his health, which he felt would not be good in this climate. Secretary Stuart B. Hanna is in correspondence with several physical instructors and will secure Mr. Burlingame's successor within the next week or two, so that the gymnasium classes can begin on schedule time.

FREE FACE BLEACH FOR COMPLEXION

I WILL SEND FREE TRIAL BOTTLE OF MY FACE BLEACH TO ANY LADY SENDING NAME AND ADDRESS.

MME. A. RUPPERT, 6 E 14TH ST., New York City

How to Obtain a Lovely

COMPLEXION

Clear and Beautiful

It is every woman's duty to be as youthful and good looking as possible, and there is nothing which adds more beauty than a lovely complexion, and there is no remedy which will restore the complexion and give one that youthful appearance like Mme. A. Ruppert's World Renowned Face Bleach. This grand remedy clears the skin of every discoloration, and impurity, including pimples, freckles, moth patches, brown spots, liver marks, corns, redness, flaking, blackheads, oiliness, sallowness, mudiness and skin diseases. It accomplishes these wonderful effects by drawing the impurities and discolorations to the surface of the skin and then removing them by gradually scaling off the surface of the outer skin. It does this in so natural a manner as to be entirely harmless to the most delicate complexion, and, having this action, it cannot fail to produce excellent effects.

Most marvelous results are obtained when Face Bleach is used according to my new Special Directions in conjunction with my Egyptian Balm, which nourishes and feeds the tissues and glands of the skin, and adds the finishing touch which refines, purifies and preserves the skin in its pristine splendor, giving it the glow of youth.

Now, in order that every lady reader of this paper may obtain the highest possible effect from the use of my preparations, I will make the following stupendous offer to all callers at the below address. A bottle of my Face Bleach, a trial jar of my Egyptian Balm, a box of my most exquisite, Almond Oil Complexion Soap, my New Special Directions, my book, "How to Be Beautiful"—all for $2. The price of Face Bleach alone is $2 per bottle, hence you receive articles absolutely free.

THE RAVEN AND THE SERPENT.

Find Another Raven.

A hungry Raven, searching for prey, came across a Snake lying at full length on a sunny bank. He seized him in his horny beak without delay, and would have devoured him, but the Snake, angry at being awakened from his slumbers, and unwilling to become a meal for another, twisted and turned about and bit the Raven with his venomous fangs, so that he died in great pain. With his dying breath the avian confessed that he was justly served for seeking to satisfy his appetite at the expense of another's welfare.

NO CHANGES MADE HE ONCE LIVED HERE

Committee Canvassed the Returns from the Primary.

Mr. M. W. Johnson Wins by Five Votes But Mr. J. Henry Smith Will Contest.

RESULT IN OTHER CASES

The Democratic city committee yesterday afternoon late finished its canvass of the vote polled at the primary Thursday, and found no change in the result as announced the day after the primary, although there were a few slight changes in the individual vote. The city committee cannot count the individual ballots except in case of a contest, as in the Taylor-Lovett case before the county committee.

The unofficial count gave Mr. M. W. Johnson two votes majority for city treasurer, while yesterday's canvass gave him five majority.

Mr. Smith will at once file a contest simply in order that several ballots cast and not counted, may be inspected by the committee and counted properly. Both gentlemen were yesterday represented by attorneys before the committee, and Mr. Smith will contest simply to settle all doubt resulting from the closeness of the race.

The committee appointed by the Democratic committee to canvass the results did not finish until about 9 o'clock last night.

It was reported today that Mr. Smith had decided not to contest, but he stated when asked by a reporter about it that he thought he would contest.

Former Captain of the Paducah Gun Club Dies.

Captain Albert Siewers Expired Suddenly at Marietta, Ohio, Last Week.

DEATHS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Former Mayor James M. Lang today received a paper from Cincinnati, O., announcing the death suddenly at Marietta, Ohio, of Captain Albert Siewers on September 7 and his burial at Cincinnati from the residence of his sister, last Wednesday.

The deceased had many friends in Paducah. Ten or twelve years ago he was here on a government dredge boat and spent a great deal of time in this part of the river, being captain of the Paducah Gun Club for a long time. He was an intimate friend of Captain E. J. Carpenter, who was on the same dredge boat at the time, and also well known here.

Captain Siewers was a large, handsome, affable man who made friends everywhere, and who had a host of them here who will regret very much to learn of his death. He had not been here for several years, but his scores of friends in Paducah cherished a fond memory for him.

Mrs. Lillie Friso, wife of Mr. Gilie Friso, died last night at her home in Melber, this county, of congestion of the stomach. She was 27 years of age. A husband, father, mother, brother and sister survived her. The burial took place this afternoon at the Mason graveyard.

Mary Belle Riddle, the four year old daughter of Mr. John Riddle, died last night at the family home on Tennessee street. The burial took place this afternoon at Oak Grove.

KILLING NEAR GUTHRIE.

Clarksville, Tenn., Sept. 15.—Near Guthrie, Ky., Morris Minnuns, a prominent farmer, while directing work at his tobacco barn, was attacked by Gabe Leavel, a farm hand, who struck Minnuns on the head with a club, knocking him down and inflicting a scalp wound. Minnuns pulled a pistol and shot Leavel in the heart, killing him instantly.

MRS. NATION IN HOPTOWN.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 15.—Mrs. Carrie Nation arrived here to pay the long promised visit to her uncle, Squire Alex Campbell, whom she had not seen for twenty years. She came from Indiana, where she made a number of addresses. Mrs. Nation has her hatchet with her, but she says she does not expect to use it or make any addresses during her stay in Kentucky, as she is here to visit relatives and to rest. She will leave Thursday for Michigan to prosecute her crusade against the saloons. An effort will likely be made to have her deliver a public address on temperance at the Tabernacle, as there is great curiosity among the citizens to see her.

THE KNIGHT CASE.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15.—Judge Walter Evans is today hearing testimony in the case of Henry Knight, of Fulton, Ky., a hotel keeper, who filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the federal court. His creditors have filed a petition to force him into involuntary bankruptcy immediately after he had made an assignment to I. M. Okonning in the state courts. The question of jurisprudence will come up. The trustee appointed by the federal court is H. Folmer.

DEATH IN CHRISTIAN.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 15.—Andrew Harris, aged 18 years, a brother-in-law of Dr. J. J. Ezell, of Lafayette, died suddenly at the home of Sincce Harris of congestion of the brain. He recently located in Oklahoma Territory and was here on a visit.

A GREAT RECORD.

HARD TO DUPLICATE IT IN PADUCAH.

Scores of representative citizens of Paducah are testifying on the following subject. Such a record of local endorsement is unequalled in modern times. This public statement made by a citizen is but one of the many that have preceded it and the hundreds that will follow. Read it:

Mrs. Martha Hamilton, of 610 Tennessee street, says: "I contracted a cold which settled in my kidneys. It brought on a severe attack of inflammation of the kidneys and ever afterwards I was subject to pain across the back, although I used every precaution to prevent it. I was prostrated and had to remain in bed for some time. One day I noticed Doan's Kidney Pills advertised for just such conditions as mine. It struck me that they might do me some good so I procured a box at DuBois & Co.'s drug store. They helped me from the start. The dull aching across the small of my back finally disappeared, the pain in my muscles and legs and dizziness which accompanied it, left, and since I have been only too pleased to tell friends and acquaintances about the results I obtained from using Doan's Kidney Pills."

Proposed Constitutional Amendment Has Good Prospects.

Candidates for Governor and Other State Offices Cheerfully Lend Their Support.

WILL HELP THE VOTE.

Unqualified endorsement of the proposed constitutional amendment has been secured by Mr. Peyton N. Clarke, secretary of the state committee appointed to conduct the campaign, from Gov. J. C. W. Beckham and Col. Morris B. Belknap, the nominees for governor. In a clear statement each nominee pledges himself to support the amendment and commends it to the voters at large. The two endorsements will be sent broadcast over the state, and it is believed the voters will be greatly influenced.

Col. Belknap furnishes the following statement:

"The more intimate my knowledge of Kentucky becomes the more impressed I am with its wonderful resources. Their development should be favored by every possible means and the proposed constitutional amendment regarding local taxation will do much in that direction. I am heartily in favor of it."

More has been accomplished the past week in behalf of the constitutional amendment than in any previous week. Mr. Clarke has completed the organization by counties and is preparing to organize every precinct. Substantial supporters of the amendment will labor in every precinct in Kentucky and the advance work has already been done. The county workers have been supplied liberally with literature and it is being distributed thoroughly, but carefully. The cartoon feature has met with great favor, and it is expected to be one of the most successful means of campaigning. The booklet which is to contain full details as to the amendment and the need it will fill will be issued next week. About 22,500 copies will be sent out Tuesday and other batches will be distributed until the entire 100,000 copies are exhausted.

Mr. Clarke is receiving letters every day endorsing the amendment. With out regard to politics, the votes are aiding in the movement and the state newspapers are thus far unanimous in support of the measure. The members of the state committee feel that the voters need only to be acquainted with the provisions of the amendment. Mr. Clarke will keep steadily at work until election day, and he believes that the majority will be overwhelming.

Gov. Beckham endorsed the amendment in the following letter:

"I believe that such an amendment ought to be passed and that it would give to our cities a much needed relief. It is a matter of local self-government to them, and would not in any way affect the question of state and county taxation. The larger cities of the state are anxious for the change and there is no reason why they should not have it."

PLEASANT EVENING.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS CONFER THE ORIENT ON SEVERAL.

HOW IT WORKS ELSEWHERE.

M. B. Belknap the Republican candidate for governor in Kentucky, remarks in a speech: "I claim there is a demand for an administration of our public affairs as a man would manage his private business." St. Louis knows what Mr. Belknap means. It pays $257,000 a year to garbage contractors who do precious little except collect the pay regularly.—Globe-Democrat.

French Lick and West Baden Springs

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and casinos one can have all the entertainment and pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.

Colored Barber Given Three

Claims He Knew Nothing About it
When Caught in a House
Asleep.

POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS

CIRCUIT COURT.

Robert Rowan, colored, was this morning sentenced to three years in the penitentiary for housebreaking.

Rowan is a colored barber who claims to have been met by a man one night several months ago and induced to drink drugged whiskey and later to enter a house with him. Rowan claims to have remembered nothing after he drank the whiskey but was found in the house of Mr. Shoemaker, on West Clay street, drunk, in his stocking feet and asleep on the bed. He did not attempt to get away and laid there half dazed until the police arrived and placed him under arrest.

His case was a most peculiar one and Judge Sanders, in police court where the preliminary hearing was held, was in a quandary to know how to dispose of the matter. He held him over, finally, and the jury thought he was guilty and returned the verdict in accordance with the above.

The following cases were set for trial: Roy Ferguson, fourteenth day; John Babcock, 11th day; George Day, 14th; Mary Thomas, 14; Henry Blue, 11; Thad Reeves, 10; Ray Taylor, 10; Charles Byson, 14; Mattie Springer, 12.

John Whittell was arraigned for malicious cutting but his case continued by the commonwealth.

The indictment against William King, for robbery, was filed away.

The case against F. E. Cartwright for selling liquor to minors was continued.

Jim Miller was dismissed of the charge of selling liquor without a license.

H. Zuber was fined $25 and costs for keeping open a bar on Sunday.

The bail for A. H. Habeck, for assault and battery, was declared forfeited. The bondsman is R. H. Burnett.

An agreed order was filed in the case of Ruby Kirchoff against J. B. Hall, administrator.

Two appeal cases were filed in circuit court today by Messrs L. A. Lagomarsino and W. C. Gray from judgments rendered in Justice Young's court. The former was fined $20 and costs and the latter $50 and costs for keeping open on Sunday.

The robbery case against John Bulger was set for the second day.

Joe Davis, colored, was arraigned this morning for robbery and Attorney Duiguid and Jesse Moss appointed to defend him. They entered a general demurrer to the indictment which was sustained and the case was thrown back to the grand jury for a new indictment.

Henry Wilson, alias "Dutch" Waggoner, who struck Hecht Grogan at the Jackson Foundry several months ago, is being tried this afternoon for malicious striking with intent to kill. It is alleged that he struck Grogan with brass knucks.

POLICE COURT.

The two cases against Mrs. Nellie Brantly for breach of the peace and using insulting language, were continued, but Mrs. Julia Long was fined $1 and costs and judgment suspended during good behavior for using insulting language. The case against Mrs. Bettie Walker was dismissed. They all became engaged in a quarrel.

Wed Gill, colored, was fined $30 and costs for breaking into his wife's room and threatening her.

The breach of the peace case against Tony Isaman was continued. He is charged with slapping a woman.

Carless Carr was fined $10 and costs for jumping off a moving train.

Missouri Owens, colored, was fined $20 and costs for using insulting language towards another woman.

A mule which had been arrested for roaming about, was tried and sentenced to be sold for the offense and the marshal's sale brought $50, the mule being bought by Mr. Tom Everts, city jailer.

Lena Chapman and Bud Dobson, colored, were arrested this morning for fighting.

COUNTY COURT.

Yesterday afternoon the will of Mrs. Alice Victoria Williams was admitted to probate in the county court, leaving

IN JUSTICE YOUNG'S COURT.

Gus Jackson, of Melber, Ky., who runs a soda water fountain, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Jesse Young this morning for keeping his place of business open on the Sabbath. There are two warrants against him to be tried for selling intoxicating drinks without a license and this afternoon a third warrant was secured charging him with selling intoxicants to minors. The former cases are being tried this afternoon before Justice Young.

SHEEHAN'S COURT.

Gaillo King, who fought with Thomas Ross several days ago in Mechanicsburg, will be tried before Justice Sheehan Friday.

A Novelist's Old Age.

"I am 74," says George Meredith, the novelist, "but I do not feel to be growing old either in heart or mind. I still look on life with a young man's eye. I have always hoped I should not grow old as some do—with a palsied intellect, living backward, regarding other people as anachronisms because they themselves have lived on into other times and left their sympathies behind them with their years."

When Guests are Expected.

In preparing a room for a guest, if only for a few days, do not neglect to place a variety of books at his disposal, says the Washington Star. If there is no bookshelf in the room, books and magazines should be placed on a low table near the window. Many a visitor has gone through tortured, sleepless nights in a strange house, with not a line of reading matter to be got at.

THE SICK.

Miss Maude Leffingwell, of the Cumberland Telephone Co., is ill again, her many friends will regret to learn.

Mrs. C. R. Hall, who has been very ill of pneumonia, at her home on North Fifth street, was slightly better this afternoon, but her condition is precarious.

Unearth Body of Abbot.

Recent excavations on the site of St. Augustine's abbey, Canterbury, Kent, England, have brought to light the leaden coffin and coffin plate of Abbot Ulric I. (985-1006), and the body of another abbot wrapped in silk vestments, much decayed, with pieces of copper gilt clasps. Numerous fragments of carved marble, brightly painted stones, gilded pinnacles and figureheads have also been unearthed.

She Was Willing.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Huntington in an address at the opening of St. George's home for deaconesses in New York city told about a Grace church Sunday school teacher who conducted her class in a friendly, informal way. One day when she said "Let us pray," a new little girl piped up cheerfully, "Yes! Let's!" She was willing to try the game, anyhow.
